NEW PUBLICATIONS

UNHAPPY HOURS: ALCOHOL AND PARTNER AGGRESSION IN THE AMERICAS

For many years, PAHO has steadfastly worked to combat gender-based violence, promote gender equality, and construct more just societies. The publication of Unhappy Hours: Alcohol and Partner Aggression in the Americas is the latest contribution in the Organization’s effort to better understand partner violence and, in so doing, find more effective interventions to right this wrong.

The book explores the relationship between alcohol consumption and partner violence, presenting for the first time a comparative and international analysis of alcohol consumption and partner aggression within a gender perspective. Despite wide differences between countries and cultures, there are common characteristics and trends across countries regarding the relationship between alcohol and partner violence. The book includes individual analyses for 10 countries in the Americas, as well as a comparison of data across countries.

The Pan American Health Organization offers this publication to a variety of audiences, including the academic and research communities, students, health promoters, health professionals, communicators, ministries of public health, and the victims of partner aggression.

ALCOHOL AND PUBLIC HEALTH IN THE AMERICAS: A CASE FOR ACTION

Alcohol consumption and drinking patterns in the Americas are at harmful levels, with regional statistics surpassing global averages for many alcohol-related problems. Numerous public health policies are accepted and supported by the public, once well-informed about the risks related to drinking. This publication explains why action is needed now, what can be done, and how, if we want to improve the health of all people in the Americas.

ALCOHOL, GENDER, CULTURE, AND HARMs IN THE AMERICAS

Alcohol is an important risk factor of morbidity and mortality in the Americas. Alcohol consumption levels in the Americas are higher, overall, than the global average, while abstinence rates for both men and women are consistently lower.

Despite WHO’s alarming estimates, alcohol-related issues continue to be a low priority in the health agendas of most countries in the Region of the Americas, and epidemiological information on alcohol consumption and related problems among men and women is scanty.

This book presents data from the Multicentric Study on Gender, Alcohol, Culture and Harm, which highlights alcohol consumption profiles and alcohol-related predictors and outcomes for 10 countries in 2005: Argentina, Belize, Brazil, Canada, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Mexico, Peru, Uruguay, and the United States.

Data from Argentina, Canada, Costa Rica, Mexico, Uruguay, and the United States were previously collected as part of the international study on Gender, Alcohol and Culture (GENACIS). New data using comparable indicators were collected from Belize, Brazil, Nicaragua, and Peru. Wide differences were seen in volume of alcohol consumption and heavy episodic drinking between countries, even those classified in the same WHO subregion.
EVERY MONTH THE REVISTA/JOURNAL PROVIDES:

- Original, peer-reviewed research articles in English, Portuguese, and Spanish; all original-research articles include an abstract in the article’s original language and in a second language (English or Spanish).
- Coverage of emerging health trends and news from the Americas on topics that include disasters, food and nutrition, health economics, health systems and services, infectious diseases, noncommunicable diseases, maternal and child health, mental health, and women’s health.

ABSTRACTED/INDEXED IN:
Current Contents/Social & Behavioral Sciences, Social Sciences Citation Index, Index Medicus (MEDLINE/PubMed), Excerpta Medica (EMBASE), Latin American and Caribbean Health Sciences Literature (LILACS), Biological Abstracts, Cambridge Scientific Abstracts, and many others.

AVAILABLE IN ELECTRONIC FORM:
The Revista/Journal has its own interactive Web site, at: http://journal.paho.org. On the site you can access the current issue and back issues of the Revista/Journal. You can also register to receive our monthly table of contents e-mail alert.

The electronic version of the complete text of the Revista/Journal is also available free of charge through SciELO (http://www.scielo.org/) and for paid subscribers through Ingenta Connect (http://www.ingentaconnect.com/), an online bibliographical service and global research gateway. Subscribers to Ingenta Connect can access all the Revista/Journal issues and other PAHO publications.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE PAHO ELECTRONIC COLLECTION

This service allows readers to access the Organization’s most frequently consulted titles in electronic format in two different ways: they can download specific chapters, sections, or an entire publication on a pay-per-view basis, or they can subscribe for one year to the entire collection.

Subscribers have access to the Collection through the Ingenta Connect compilation service. Ingenta Connect is an online bibliographical service and global research gateway that offers: more than 700 full-text articles in PDF format (some free, some pay-per-view), linking of bibliographical references for indexed articles, and an easy-to-navigate, user-friendly format.

Separately and together, the components of the PAHO Electronic Collection are valuable reference tools for decision makers in health-related issues, public health and medical professionals and students, scientific researchers, and all others interested in the potential contribution of human health to socioeconomic development and well-being.

RIGHTS TO TRANSLATE AND REPRINT PAHO PUBLICATIONS

PAHO produces and disseminates reliable information and provides guidance in all matters dealing with public health policy and practice, as a way to fill the current breach between scientific and technical analysis and the conduct of health promotion, disease prevention, and health care activities.

We welcome publishers, government and academic institutions, and NGOs to become multipliers of the Organization’s scientific and technical information by making PAHO’s intellectual output available in the appropriate languages in some of the world’s lesser-developed areas where access to basic and reliable public health information is critical.

PAHO uses a standard licensing agreement adaptable to specific circumstances. Commercial and noncommercial requests will be considered as well, with the payment of nominal royalties to PAHO, depending on the particular case.

WEB 2.0: A NEW FORM OF WORK IN THE PAN AMERICAN HEALTH ORGANIZATION

The new PAHO Web encompasses the following fundamental principles with regard to the dissemination of and access to all content produced by PAHO:

- Equity
- Convergence
- Standardization
- Scalability
- Integration with WHO

The new Web 2.0 ensures and promotes the convergence of all institutional portals of the Country Offices and Specialized Centers, as well as the Virtual Health Library, the Virtual Campus in Public Health, and the Regional Public Health Observatory.
