One of the Pan American Health Organization’s core mandates is to collect and disseminate information on health conditions and trends in the countries and territories of the Americas. One key mechanism to accomplish this mandate is to publish Health in the Americas, a comprehensive report exclusively devoted to tracking and analyzing the Region’s health situation. This book has been published every four years since 1954, and beginning in 2002, every five years. As such, Health in the Americas has become the Organization’s flagship publication, informing Member Governments on public health issues critical to policy development and decision-making.

The two volumes of Health in the Americas present information for the 2000–2005 period. Volume I examines health in the Americas from a Regional perspective.

Among other issues, the volume’s six chapters analyze:
- the political, social, and economic context of health, as well as important demographic and mortality trends;
- the leading diseases and health problems and efforts to prevent and control them;
- the interrelationship between the environment and human living conditions;
- the structure and functioning of health systems in the Region and efforts to reform them, and the scope and impact of international cooperation in health;
- the prospects for improving health in the Region addressed by a group of internationally renowned experts who offer their comments on the “Health Agenda for the Americas, 2008–2017.”

Volume II tackles these same issues from a national perspective and includes information on progress towards attaining the Millennium Development Goals. This volume has 46 chapters covering information and analysis for each of the countries or territories in the Americas.

Health in the Americas offers up-to-date information on health in the Region to government officials, public health and medical professionals, researchers, medical librarians, students, and anyone interested in health and human development in the Americas.

HEALTH STATISTICS FROM THE AMERICAS, 2006 EDITION

Health Statistics from the Americas, 2006 Edition is the sixth in a series begun in 1991 to complement the quadrennial publication Health in the Americas. This is the second edition to be produced only in an electronic format, and it includes a special focus on the 10 leading causes of death in 31 countries of the Americas.

The 2006 edition contains mortality data for all country-years received after publication of the 2003 edition of the series. This volume presents available data for a large number of country-years—155 data-years from 42 countries. It includes 45 country-years of mortality data coded with the Ninth Revision of the International Classification of Diseases (ICD-9) and 110 country-years coded with the Tenth Revision of the ICD (ICD-10). These data are presented for cause groups according to the PAHO 6/61 List for tabulation of ICD-9-coded mortality and the PAHO 6/67 List for tabulation of ICD-10-coded mortality.

The publication serves to display the extensive availability of detailed mortality data in the countries of the Americas. It also highlights the importance of addressing deficiencies in data coverage and quality in order to improve the reliability and usefulness of registered mortality information. Despite improvements over the years, much more needs to be done to strengthen the civil registration and vital statistics systems in countries where they are deficient.

THE CHALLENGE OF EPIDEMIOLOGY: ISSUES AND SELECTED READINGS

Edited by four eminent epidemiologists, Dr. Carol Buck, Dr. Alvaro Llopis, Sr. Enrique Nájera, and Dr. Milton Terris, this book consolidates, for the first time, a core of 91 landmark articles on the evolution, scope and limitations, uses, and prospects of epidemiology.

An outstanding feature of the book is the inclusion of the editors’ assessments of the realm of epidemiology—where it is and where it should be going. It represents a useful tool for both students and practicing professionals and provides a much-needed frame of reference for reorienting the practice of epidemiology.
EVERY MONTH THE REVISTA/JOURNAL PROVIDES:

- Original, peer-reviewed research articles in English, Portuguese, and Spanish; all original-research articles include an abstract in the article's original language and in a second language (English or Spanish).
- Coverage of emerging health trends and news from the Americas on topics that include disasters, food and nutrition, health economics, health systems and services, infectious diseases, noncommunicable diseases, maternal and child health, mental health, and women’s health.

ABSTRACTED/INDEXED IN:
Current Contents/Social & Behavioral Sciences, Social Sciences Citation Index, Index Medicus (MEDLINE/PubMed), Excerpta Medica (EMBASE), Latin American and Caribbean Health Sciences Literature (LILACS), Biological Abstracts, Cambridge Scientific Abstracts, and many others.

AVAILABLE IN ELECTRONIC FORM:
The Revista/Journal has its own interactive Web site, at: http://journal.paho.org. On the site you can access the current issue and back issues of the Revista/Journal. You can also register to receive our monthly table of contents e-mail alert.

The electronic version of the complete text of the Revista/Journal is also available free of charge through SciELO (http://www.scielo.org/) and for paid subscribers through Ingenta Connect (http://www.ingentaconnect.com/), an online bibliographical service and global research gateway. Subscribers to Ingenta Connect can access all the Revista/Journal issues and other PAHO publications.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE PAHO ELECTRONIC COLLECTION

This service allows readers to access the Organization’s most frequently consulted titles in electronic format in two different ways: they can download specific chapters, sections, or an entire publication on a pay-per-view basis, or they can subscribe for one year to the entire collection.

Subscribers have access to the Collection through the Ingenta Connect compilation service. Ingenta Connect is an online bibliographical service and global research gateway that offers: more than 700 full-text articles in PDF format (some free, some pay-per-view), linking of bibliographical references for indexed articles, and an easy-to-navigate, user-friendly format.

Separately and together, the components of the PAHO Electronic Collection are valuable reference tools for decision makers in health-related issues, public health and medical professionals and students, scientific researchers, and all others interested in the potential contribution of human health to socioeconomic development and well-being.

RIGHTS TO TRANSLATE AND REPRINT PAHO PUBLICATIONS

PAHO produces and disseminates reliable information and provides guidance in all matters dealing with public health policy and practice, as a way to fill the current breach between scientific and technical analysis and the conduct of health promotion, disease prevention, and health care activities.

We welcome publishers, government and academic institutions, and NGOs to become multipliers of the Organization’s scientific and technical information by making PAHO’s intellectual output available in the appropriate languages in some of the world’s lesser-developed areas where access to basic and reliable public health information is critical.

PAHO uses a standard licensing agreement adaptable to specific circumstances. Commercial and noncommercial requests will be considered as well, with the payment of nominal royalties to PAHO, depending on the particular case.

WEB 2.0: A NEW FORM OF WORK IN THE PAN AMERICAN HEALTH ORGANIZATION

The new PAHO Web encompasses the following fundamental principles with regard to the dissemination of and access to all content produced by PAHO:

- Equity
- Convergence
- Standardization
- Scalability
- Integration with WHO

The new Web 2.0 ensures and promotes the convergence of all institutional portals of the Country Offices and Specialized Centers, as well as the Virtual Health Library, the Virtual Campus in Public Health, and the Regional Public Health Observatory.
