These six pamphlets are designed to facilitate the use of international human rights instruments by government agency personnel, members of civil society organizations, PAHO technical staff, and personnel from other agencies of the United Nations and the Organization of American States. All of the pamphlets present real-life accounts related to human rights and fundamental freedoms on the following topics: people living with HIV/AIDS, people with disabilities, people exposed to second-hand tobacco smoke, older persons, indigenous peoples, and people with mental disabilities. They are useful to personnel who participate in the reform of policies, plans, programs, and public health legislation for the most vulnerable groups.

RIGHTS TO TRANSLATE AND REPRINT PAHO PUBLICATIONS

PAHO produces and disseminates reliable information and provides guidance in all matters dealing with public health policy and practice, as a way to fill the current breach between scientific and technical analysis and the conduct of health promotion, disease prevention, and health care activities.

We welcome publishers, government and academic institutions, and NGOs to become multipliers of the Organization’s scientific and technical information by making PAHO’s intellectual output available in the appropriate languages in some of the world’s lesser-developed areas where access to basic and reliable public health information is critical.

PAHO uses a standard licensing agreement adaptable to specific circumstances. Commercial and noncommercial requests will be considered as well, with the payment of nominal royalties to PAHO, depending on the particular case.
